ADMITS CIRCULATION WAS REAL MOTIVE OF ATTACK

Editor of Pittsburg Leader Says That Charges Were Made Against Mr. Tener Merely as a Matter of Business.

POLICY OF LEADER TO "KNOCK WHAT IS"

The Republican campaign party, headed by John K. Tener, nominee for Governor, had a busy but encouraging day yesterday. The feature of the day was the meeting in the evening at Waynesboro, where Congressman B. K. Focht exposed the base motive underlying the attacks on Mr Tener. Mr. Focht said:

"Relative to recent attacks upon Mr. Tener, I do not consider it a violation of confidence to repet a a conversation I recently had with Mr. A P. Moore, editor and proprietor of the Pittsburg Leader, a newspaper which is viciously opposed to Mr. Tener's candidacy. Mr Moore, who is a friend of mine, volunteered the statement to me that these recent attacks upon our candidate for Governor were simply a matter of business so far as the newspapers are concerned, in that they produce excitement among the masses and increased the circulation of the newspaper that indugle in them.

"In other words," he said, "it is strictly a business proposition. Mr Moore informed me that while Mr. Tener's ancestors, his relationship in both a business and social way, his personal character and business associations are altogether worthy, there must oe a central point of attack to keeps up the interest, which of course keep up the sales of the newspapers that encourge this sort of thing.

"It is my experiene from long years of observation and experience in politics and journalism that these personal raids, such as are being made on Mr. Tener, are designed to break into or break up the Republican party, and these with the assistance of the effort to increase circulation of newspapers, bring abuse upon men of high character and standing who may desire office. These are but the ever recurring incidents of a campaign; a notable example being the vicious assaults of four years ago upon our most excellent executive, the Hon. Edwin S. Stuart. I personally know Mr. Tener as a fellow member of Congress. He is a very excellent gentleman, honest and painstaking, and he is absolutely blameless with respect to these vague and indirect accustions that are being ground up in the muckraking mills simply for newpaper circulation."

All this is in line with the information given the Mail by the Leader representative who was here at the opening of the campaign on September 3. At that time the Leader man stated that his paper did not like Berry and would not support Grim, but it proposed to "knock" Tener because it was "again" the administration.

BERRYITES NOT SURE

Traveling Man Says They Back Down When Confronted.

JUST NOISY THAT'S ALL

A traveling man who makes regular visits to Charleroi and whose route extends over the western group of counties was asked today concerning the political situation. He said:

"While I am a Republican and will vote the ticket, I have never paid much attention to local politics in any one place along my route. I am constantly asked as to the situation and do a lot of 'kidding' with the different people I come in contact. Many whom I meet want to bet, and I have some small wagers on results as to how certain counties will go, but when I flush the proposal, 'I'll bet ten dollars that J. K. Tener is the next Governor,' I've never yet found a taker. I've seen some betting at the various hotels along my route, but all are either on majorities on certain counties or cities. No one that I've seen or heard of will take a direct bet that Tener will not be the next Governor."

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Mangan left last evening for New York, being called there by the death of the former's sister in law.

CORONER'S JURY HOLDS OFFICER FOR SHOOTING

Grand Jury of Allegheny County Will Pass Upon Affair Which Resulted in Foreigner's Death.

Upon recommendation of the coroner's jury sitting yesterday in the inquest into the death of John Huzoda who was killed at Gallatin Monday night, Constable Samuel Hobaugh is being held to await the action of the Allegheny county grand jury. The verdict rendered was in effect that John Huzoda came to his death from a bullet wound in the groin inflicted by Constable Hobaugh and recommending that the constable be held on the charge of manslaughter.

Constable Hobaugh is now in the Allegheny county jail, having given himself up. It is claimed he shot in self defense.

EX-BOSS WORKING ON PLAN TO DISFRANCHISE VOTERS

Keystone Movement in This County is Only Scheme to Control Every Office From Top to Bottom.

In an article exposing E. F. Acheson's deep laid plot to control county nominations next spring as well as to pay off some political debts of gratitude at the present time, the Washington Record issues the following warning to voters:

"What Acheson wants you to do now is to allow him to tie your hands so that you cannot vote next spring. He is attempting to mislead you so that you will disfranchise yourself. He wants you in such a position under the law that when you walk up to the polls at the primaries you cannot vote any other ticket but the Keystone ticket.

"In the meantime, if he can sneak back into control of election boards he will abandon the Keystone ticket as he abandoned the Republican party. He will order his henchmen to cheat you as he ordered them to cheat the Republican party by going into the Republican primaries last spring and deserting the ticket that was nominated at those primaries. He will no more acknowledge his obligations to you as a Keystone voter than he has acknowledged his debt to you as a Republican voter for returning him term after term to Congress.

"It is not im probable that Acheson and his reform friends have in mind a plan to destroy the beneficial effects of the Uniform Primaries Act, the greatest reform measure enacted in years. I was enacted by a Republican Legislature, and if the Keystone conspirators gain control at Harrisburg in order to carry out their threats of vengeance against those who vote the Republican ticket, they must change or repeal that law

"That means that if you vote the Keystone ticket this fall you cannot vote the Republican or the Democratic ticket next spring at the primaries without perjury. To Acheson it means that if he gets you into his trap now he will still hold you next year, when he is going after all the county offices."

For Gain Only

The cold-blooded admission of the editor of the Pittsburg Leader that its vicious attacks upon Congressman J. K. Tener are inspired solely for the purpose of gaining circulation and "producing excitement among the masses," shows to what lengths yellow journalism can be carried. The editor of the Leader frankly admits that Mr. Tener's personal character, business career and associations are altogether worthy, but states there must be some central point of attack to keep newspaper interest in order to promote the sale of the paper.

Every person who knows Congressman John K. Tener knows him to be a man of truth, honor and integrity. Any local enterprise or project that has had his indorsement has been assured of success, and no one has ever impugned his loyalty to Charleroi or his interest in the well being of its citizens. Will the indirect accusations and innuendos of a coterie of unscrupulous newspapers whose admitted object is personal grudge and pecuniary gain be accepted now as a criterion for Mr. Tener's character and standing instead of his long and honorable career in his home town? These papers have made no direct charges against Mr. Tener, and have proven nothing derogatory to his character. It is up to the people to decide whether they want the State administration to continue along the safe lines followed by Governor Stuart or to be dominated by the influence for the coterie of precious rascals who deliberately plotted to assassinate the personal character and business standing of a worthy citizens.

Stuart for Tener

"Governor Stuart, who is admired and beloved by almost the entire people of the State, is out on the stump with an unqualified and enthusiastic endorsement of the candidacy of John Kinley Tener for the office which Governor Stuart has filled with such distinguished honors," says the Philadelphia Star. "There is no equivocation about what the Governor says upon this subject, and there is no qualification in his remarks when he says of Tener that he is a man 'who, I am satisfied, will do what he promises you he will do if elected to that high and honorable office.'

"The people of Pennsylvania know that Governor Stuart, careful and conservative man that he is, would never give such an indorsement to one who is in the slightest degree unworthy. They know that the Governor who speaks with such unqualified language has gone into the matter thoroughly and knows of what he speaks else he would not do so. No better indosrement so far as the honest, right thinking, fair and decent people of the State is concerned, could be had.

"It is thus that an honest man gets his reward for right living. There are always honest and decent men to come forward and to speak the truth about him. It matters not that the vile and the malicious slanderer is abroad in the land when there are those whose name is a guarantee for all that is right and proper who will come to his defense and tell the truth about him. The truth that they themselves know, and in this case they tell it with a loud voice before all men."

A Party Wrecker

Recent transactions at the county seat develop the fact that the real object of former Congressman E. F. Acheson's activities for the Keystone party is to rehabilitate himself as political boss. While endeavoring to make as much trouble as possible for Congressman J. K. Tener, Republican candidate for Governor, who dethroned Acheson as political boss in Washington county, the latter is bending every energy to carry Washington county for the Keystone ticket in order to become a power in the nomination for county offices next year. Mr. Acheson really has no hopes of defeating Mr. Tener for Governor, but if the Keystone party is triumphant at the polls in the county the Acheson influence will naturally be sought by candidates for county office. Here is where Mr. Acheson hopes to "get in his work."

Already Acheson has served notice on aspirants for county office that they must see him, when his Observer publishes the following: "The Keystone party organization will not be abandoned when the polls close November 8. Those who want the Keystone indorsement in 1911 when nearly every office in the court house is to be filled, should show their colors now." This is a club to compel Republicans to desert their party now in order to court favor with the boss who will try to capture and control the party organization. While it is hardly possible under the present primary law, the election of Keystone Assemblymen and Senators may make it possible to repeal or modify the uniform primary law so that nominations may be controlled by the bosses. It is a deep laid plot, and county and municipal control is now the prize for which the ex-boss is bending his utmost endeavors to win.

CORONER'S JURY HOLDS OFFICER FOR SHOOTING

Grand Jury of Allegheny County Will Pass Upon Affair Which Resulted in Foreigner's Death.

Upon recommendation of the coroner's jury sitting yesterday in the inquest into the death of John Huzoda who was killed at Gallatin Monday night, Constable Samuel Hobaugh is being held to await the action of the Allegheny county grand jury. The verdict rendered was in effect that John Huzoda came to his death from a bullet wound in the groin inflicted by Constable Hobaugh and recommending that the constable be held on the charge of manslaughter.

Constable Hobaugh is now in the Allegheny county jail, having given himself up. It is claimed he shot in self defense.

EX-BOSS WORKING ON PLAN TO DISFRANCHISE VOTERS

Keystone Movement in This County is Only Scheme to Control Every Office From Top to Bottom.

In an article exposing E. F. Acheson's deep laid plut to control county nominations next spring as well as to pay off some political debts of gratitude at the present time, the Washington Record issues the following warning to voters:

"What Acheson wants you to do now is to allow him to tie your hands so that you cannot vote next spring. He is attempting to mislead you so that you will disfranchise yourself. He wants you in such a position under the law that when you walk up to the polls at the primaries you cannot vote any other ticket but the Keystone ticket.

"In the meantime, if he can sneak back into control of election boards he will abandon the Keystone ticket as he abandoned the Republican party. He will order his henchmen to cheat you as he ordered them to cheat the Republican party by going into the Republican primaries last spring and deserting the ticket that was nominated at those primaries. He will no more acknowledge his obligations to you as a Keystone voter than he has acknowledged his debt to you as a Republican voter for returning him term after term to Congress.

"It is not im probable that Acheson and his reform friends have in mind a plan to destroy the beneficial effects of the Uniform Primaries Act, the greatest reform measure enacted in years. I was enacted by a Republican Legislature, and if the Keystone conspirators gain control at Harrisburg in order to carry out their threats of vengeance against those who vote the Republican ticket, they must change or repeal that law

"That means that if you vote the Keystone ticket this fall you cannot vote the Republican or the Democratic ticket next spring at the primaries without perjury. To Acheson it means that if he gets you into his trap now he will still hold you next year, when he is going after all the county offices."

BERRYITES NOT SURE

Traveling Man Says They Back Down When Confronted.

JUST NOISY THAT'S ALL

A traveling man who makes regular visits to Charleroi and whose route extends over the western group of counties was asked today concerning the political situation. He said:

"While I am a Republican and will vote the ticket, I have never paid much attention to local politics in any one place along my route. I am constantly asked as to the situation and do a lot of 'kidding' with the different people I come in contact. Many whom I meet want to bet, and I have some small wagers on results as to how certain counties will go, but when I flash the proposal, 'I'll bet ten dollars that J. K. Tener is the next Governor,' I've never yet found a taker. I've seen some betting at the various hotels along my route, but all are either on majorities on certain counties or cities. No one that I've seen or heard of will take a direct bet that Tener will not be the next Governor."

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Mangan left last evening for New York, being called there by the death of the former's sister in-law.

For Gain Only

The cold-blooded admission of the editor of the Pittsburg Leader that the vicious attacks upon Congressman John K. Tener are inspired solely for the purpose of gaining circulation and "producing excitement among the masses," shows to what lengths yellow journalism can be carried. The editor of the Leader frankly admits that Mr. Tener's personal character, business career and associations are altogether worthy, but states there must be some central point of attack to keep the newspaper interest in order to promote the sale of the paper.

Every person who knows Congressman John K. Tener knows him to be a man of truth, honor and integrity. Any local enterprise or project that has had his indorsement has been assured of success, and no one has ever impugned his loyalty to Charleroi or his interest in the well being of its citizens. Will the indirect accusations and innuendos of a coterie of unscrupulous newspapers whose admitted object is personal grudge and pecuniary gain be accepted now as a criterion for Mr. Tener's character and standing instead of his long and honorable career in his home town? These papers have made no direct charges against Mr. Tener, and have proven nothing derogatory to his character. It is up to the people to decide whether they want the State administration to continue along the same lines followed by Governor Stuart or to be dominated by the influence for the coterie of precious rascals who deliberately plotted to assassinate the personal character and business standing of a worthy citizens.

Stuart for Tener

"Governor Stuart, who is admired and beloved by almost the entire people of the State, is out on the stump with an unqualified and enthusiastic endorsement of the candidacy of John Kinley Tener for the office which Governor Stuart has filled with such distinguished honors," says the Philadelphia Star. "There is no equivocation about what the Governor says upon this subject, and there is no qualification in his remarks when he says of Tener that he is a man 'who, I am satisfied, will do what he promises you he will do if elected to that high and honorable office.'

"The people of Pennsylvania know that Governor Stuart, careful and conservative man that he is, would never give such an indorsement to one who is in the slightest degree unworthy. They know that the Governor who speaks with such unqualified language has gone into the matter thoroughly and knows of what he speaks else he would not do so. No better indorsement so far as the honest, right thinking, fair and decent people of the State is concerned, could be had.

"It is thus that an honest man gets his reward for right living. There are always honest and decent men to come forward and to speak the truth about him. It matters not that the vile and the malicious slanderer is abroad in the land when there are those whose name is a guarantee for all that is right and proper who will come to his defense and tell the truth about him. The truth that they themselves know, and in this case they tell it with a loud voice before all men."

A Party Wrecker

Recent transactions at the county seat develop the fact that the real object of former Congressman E. F. Acheson's activities for the Keystone party is to rehabilitate himself as political boss. While endeavoring to make as much trouble as possible for Congressman J. K. Tener, Republican candidate for Governor, who dethroned Acheson as political boss in Washington county, the latter is bending every energy to carry Washington county for the Keystone ticket in order to become a power in the nomination for county offices next year. Mr. Acheson really has no hopes of defeating Mr. Tener for Governor, but if the Keystone party is triumphant at the polls in the county the Acheson influence will naturally be sought by candidates for county office. Here is where Mr. Acheson hopes to "get in his work."

Already Acheson has served notice on aspirants for county office that they must see him, when his Observer publishes the following: "The Keystone party organization will not be abandoned when the polls close November 8. Those who want the Keystone indorsement in 1911 when nearly every office in the court house is to be filled, should show their colors now." This is a club to compel Republicans to desert their party now in order to court favor with the boss who will try to capture and control the party organization. While it is hardly possible under the present primary law, the election of Keystone Assemblymen and Senators may make it possible to repeal or modify the uniform primary law so that nominations may be controlled by the bosses. It is a deep laid plot, and county and municipal control is now the prize for which the ex-boss is bending his utmost endeavors to win.

"I almost forget. Oh yes; I think I mostly called her 'Say,' the first year."
